Liquor Valued At Half Million Seized Today

20 MINUTE BATTLE
PRECEDES CAPTURE
OF FOUR THOUSAND
CASES OF WHISKEY

Twenty Four Prisoners And
Two Masted Schooner Are Taken In Raid

HIGH OPERATING COST

Raid On Coast Of Florida Nets
Prohibition Raiders Liquor, Too

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, March 17.—Four thousand cases of imported whiskey, valued at $500,000, a two-masted schooner, a big moving van, two touring cars and 24 prisoners were seized early today by the special service squad of the customs service in a spectacular raid on an abandoned pier
here this morning.

Several shots were fired in a 20-minute rough and tumble fight between the raiders and the combined crews of the ship and the automobiles. It is the largest single seizure made by the authorities since the prohibition laws went into effect here.

According to the customs men the schooner is a boat known as the Viking, which has been long sought as a rum runner. The prisoners included the captain of the schooner, who knew the name of John Johnson.

The whiskey, most of which was still on board the schooner when the raiders swooped down upon the docks, is said to have been brought here from Nassau and the Bahamas. The custom men believe that the abandoned pier has long been used as a landing place for smuggled liquor and think they nipped one of the biggest smuggling conspiracies uncovered
since prohibition went into effect.

MORE LIQUOR TAKEN

MIAMI, Fla., March 17.—Packed with cabbages, grape fruit and other vegetables and fruit, liquor valued at $35,000 was seized here and at Fort Pierce today from freight cars by prohibition officers. No arrests were made. Four hundred and thirty-seven cases of liquor, the agent said, were taken from a car at Fort Pierce.
Grape fruit was packed around it.
Two hundred and eighty cases, with cabbages, tomatoes and other vegetables packed around, were taken from a car here.

DRY NAVY COSTLY

WASHINGTON, March 17.—High cost of operation threatened today to jam the highly touted prohibition navy on the financial rocks. Budget officers were plainly agast over the huge sums enforcement officers planned to spend to maintain a fleet of sub-chasers hunting rum smugglers.
Fears that the dry fleet plans may run counter to President Harding's warning against bureau deficits may break up the entire prohibition navy scheme.
Commander W. E. Reynolds, of the coast guard, declared today that nine sub-chasers transferred by the navy were loaned to Prohibition Commissioner Haynes' organization, but that enforcement authorities will assume entire responsibility for manning the sub-chaser fleet and is paying for its operation.

ASK DISCONTINUANCE

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 17.—
Petition for permission to discontinue the agency at Oxmoor, Jefferson county, was filed with the public service commission by the Louisville and Nashville railroad today. The petition recited the fact that the revenue from the office is not sufficient to meet operating expenses and that a caretaker which the railroad is willing to establish can care for the needs of the station. The commission set the petition for hearing May 1.

NATION DEPENDS ON ALABAMA FIELD FOR COAL IN EVENT OF NATIONAL WALKOUT

Suspension Of Operations Inevitable, Secretary-Treasurer
William Green Says

GREATER PRODUCTION IN ALABAMA AREA

Strike Would Stimulate Work In State Mines General Belief

(International News Service.)
INDIANAPOLIS, March 17.—Suspension of the mining operations in both the bituminous and anthracite coal fields of the country is inevitable, it was declared today by William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers.

Nation wide suspension will take place April 1, he forecasts in a statement in which he placed all blame upon the operators.

BIRMINGHAM, March 17.—Alabama coal fields will be called upon to keep the nation's coal supply unbroken in the event the nation wide strike of miners occurs April 1. This is the view of both operators and miners on the eve of the walkout that can be averted only by government action.
Production in Alabama will be increased, rather than diminished by the strike according to both factions involved. The Alabama district, number 20 in union geography, experienced a strike one year ago which was lost by the miners, leaving the union organization shattered and impotent.

Since that time production has been at a low ebb and faced by the universal employment situation little progress has been made toward knitting together the union ties severed by the strike. Officials today practically admitted that a strike would be out of the question in the Alabama district.
Union leaders here, however, declared that all through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania mine workers are ready for a finish fight, provided intervention by the government does not avert the threatened walkout.

With the strike almost conceded a certainty, it is known that operators in Alabama are figuring on production quickly increased to meet the demand that naturally will come because of the cessation of work in other fields.

Production already has quickened as shown by last week's report of 280,000 tons, the largest for 18 months.

Groundhog Says
Good Weather Due

Prognostications anent the groundhog day were up Thursday, and some of that fine weather for which we have been longing for the past six weeks is now due. So far the predictions by this rule have proven very true. If, on the other hand, the prediction of clear warm weather is as sure as the had has been, everything is well. It is time to hitch up and go to work that something may be garnered. The early garden is needing planting and working. The mind now turns to shellots, radishes, mustard, spinach, and the home garden in general. The farmers thoughts are on the farm with all its multiplied duties. Let's go!

Business Better
In the Magic City

"Business is turning for the better, not only in our immediate section, but apparently over a wide territory," declared J. R. Smiley, of Birmingham, who is here, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edmundson. "We expect conditions to be a great deal better throughout 1922."

RETAIL MERCHANTS
PLAN A CREDIT UNIT

The Retail Merchants Credit association is being organized in Albany-Decatur. R. F. Boston today was taking a petition among the merchants, endorsing the organization and was meeting with a great deal of success.
It is declared that there exists a real need for a credit association in the Twin Cities, similar to the organizations now at work in practically all of the larger cities of the South.
By means of such an organization, it was pointed out, the merchants would be enabled to save themselves from losses by weeding out the undesirable accounts.

New Railroad To Be Operated Soon

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 17.—
The Gulf Ports Terminal company proposes to begin the operation of the 16 miles of railway which it owns in Baldwin county, according to information conveyed to H. F. Lee, state auditor, today. The company qualified to do business in Alabama and announced that it would expend $68-000 in putting the short line in condition for operation.

This company is the successor of the Pensacola, Mobile and New Orleans railroad, which constructed the road in Baldwin county as a part of a railroad system.

Decatur High To Play Two Games

The Decatur high school baseball team will open its season this afternoon in Florence, playing the strong College high school there. Saturday afternoon the locals will complete their road trip when they play Sheffield high in Sheffield.

The team, in charge of Robert Banks, who has been acting as coach for some time, left this morning for Florence. The team has some good material and is expected to have a successful season.
Uniforms have been ordered for the squad.

CHAUTAUQUA WILL BE HERE IN JUNE

The Redpath five-day chautauqua will come here next June under the auspices of the Central Albany Parent-Teachers association. This was decided Wednesday at one of their meetings.

Several committees of ladies of the Central Albany Parent-Teachers association are making a canvass of the town to secure the required ticket pledges to insure the chautauqua here.

This is the same chautauqua that visits Mobile, Pensacola, Jackson, Miss., etc.

A fine line of talent is in store for Albany, and an intellectual treat is assured. Among the talent might be mentioned Frank Dixon, Granville
Jones, Cline Unangst, Convis, Soli
Marimba Band, The Alexander Trio,
The Zedler Symphonic Quintet, and a play, "Friendly Enemies." The movement to bring the chautauqua here next June has the support and backing of the city officials, and school authorities.

Two Are Held In Insanity Cases

Wayland Moore, of Hartselle, a white man, was placed in the county jail Thursday evening for safe keeping. It is understood that he will be transferred to the insane asylum at Tuscaloosa as soon as the necessary papers can be procured.

This makes two alleged insane prisoners in the county jail. The negro,
Son Sherrod, placed there several days ago, is giving the jail authorities considerable trouble. He is violent and considered dangerous.

William H. Bell
Is Buried Friday

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for William Herbert Bell, aged 33 years, who died Thursday at 11:15 at the residence of his father, C. H. Bell, at Austinville. Interment will be made at Andrews Chapel. The deceased is survived by his wife, four children,
his father and four brothers, as follows: J. N. Bell, of Birmingham; I. M., J. R., and Angie Bell, of Austinville;
four sisters, Mrs. Mary Kirkpatrick, Cora Kirkpatrick, Elsie Morris and Gracie, of Morgan county.

ALLEN ANNOUNCES A CONFERENCE TO AID
DETROIT MAN'S BID

(International News Service.)

BIRMINGHAM, March 17.—Launching of the intensive fight to aid Henry Ford in his offer for Muscle Shoals property is slated for next Monday, when several hundred delegates, representing every Alabama county, will meet here to form the Alabama Muscle Shoals association, authorized March 1 at a state mass meeting held in Montgomery.

Judge B. M. Allen, chairman, appointed at the meeting, has directed the preliminary steps forming the association, which, he declared today, will join hands with similar organizations in Georgia, Tennessee, Mississippi and other interested state in pushing to the utmost efforts in behalf of Ford.

JOHN M'HENRY ON GALLOWS PAYS HIS LIFE FOR MURDERS

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—John McHenry, 22 year old murderer, who was given a week's time to prepare his soul for death, was hanged today within sight of the capitol's dome.

McHenry went to his death at the end of a hangman's noose, smiling and unafraid. He mounted the scaffold unaided, faced the West and plunged into eternity without opening his lips.

The execution, staged under the auspices of the federal government, came only after President Harding had refused to intervene. McHenry was the self-confessed murderer of a Washington garage owner and a detective sergeant. Every hope that a reprieve might save him fled this morning when District Judge McCord denied a further reprieve. A short time earlier dispatches from St.
Augustine, Fla., stated that President Harding would not intercede to save the boy.

The youth, himself, was only mildly interested in the frantic, last minute efforts made to save him from the gallows.

"I'm ready. What's the use of waiting? I'm ready to be bumped off and it might as well be now as anytime. They say I'm no good. Maybe I ain't. Anyway, I'm ready," he said.

Mass for the repose of the boy's soul was said in the dimly lighted jail chapel this morning.

Advertisers Are Urged To Send In Their Copy Early

Advertisers in The Daily are urgently requested to get their copy 1 nearer on the date they desire publication. The Daily's press hour is 2 o'clock, enabling it to get all of the afternoon trains out of here.
To make these trains, it is necessary that advertising copy be in the office earlier. It works not only to the advantage of The Daily, but to the advantage of the advertiser as well, giving the latter better service and increased circulation.

The Daily has been forced to establish a deadline on advertising copy at 10:30 o'clock on the morning of the date of publication. Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

MORGAN COUNTY IS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER
PLAN OF MEMORIAL TO GENERAL GORGAS

Dr. K. M. Saliba Here For Conference With The Local People

INTENSIVE DRIVE ON HERE DURING WEEK

Committees Will Make Final Plans At Tuesday Evening's Meet

Morgan county is deeply enthusiastic over the plans for the Gorgas Memorial, Dr. G. M. Saliba, of the national organization committee, found after conferring with local people; he stated today.

W. W. Rahm, general chairman for the county, has issued a call for a meeting of all committees to be held Tuesday evening at the chamber of commerce when all of the plans for the campaign will be completed and it is expected that Morgan county will go over the top next week.

Other members of the county organization are: Mrs. L. A. Nell, resident of the ladies committee; J.
W. Clopton, chairman founders committee; W. R. Shelton, publicity chairman; Rev. W. P. Wilks, chairman of the clergy.

"I find interest very keen throughout North Alabama, and particularly so in Morgan county," declared Dr.
Saliba today. He is spending several days in this section looking after organization for the state-wide campaign which is expected to net Alabama's quota of the money necessary to erect the Gorgas school of sanitation in Tuscaloosa. The South needs this school and the South will have this school.

The school will be built at a cost of $500,000 and will have as a part of its maintenance fund the interest of a $2,000,000 endowment. The meeting Tuesday night will result in an even greater interest being shown in the county, Dr. Saliba said, and members of the various committees have little doubt that Morgan county will be well up toward the front when the amounts raised in the counties are tabulated.

Buys New Bonnet
For Lizzie, But It
Was A Tin Lizzie

A. C. Dillehay, known to his host of friends here as "Jack," former mayor of Albany and one of the county's most eligible bachelors, created much interest this morning when he came to Second avenue to purchase a bonnet for Lizzie.

The purchase, however, consisted of buying a new radiator hood for his Ford car. The hood was stolen during he night as the car stood in front of Mr. Dillehay's drug store on Fourth avenue.

Major Coart Is Adjudged Guilty

(International News Service.)
TALBOTTON, Ga., March 17.—Major Leigh H. Coart, former army officer, today was found guilty of the murder of A. B. McNiece, former superintendent of county schools, by a jury with recommendation for mercy.
This carries with it a sentence of life imprisonment.

Two women members of Major Coart's family fainted in the courtroom when the verdict was read.

CLASS TO MEET
Members of the Spencer Bible class will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the office of Dr. R. M. McGlathery for organization of a membership drive.

HOUSE MEMBERS ARE PLANNING INSPECTION

Accounts Committee Approves
$2,000 Appropriation For The Big Event

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, March 17.—The senate agriculture committee will leave the capital Saturday, March 25, on an inspection trip of the government nitrate project at Muscle Shoals,
Ala., it was announced today.

The trip will cover five days and will include personal inspection of all parts of the project. About 20 senators will be included in the party.
It was indicated that the party will be comprised solely of members of the committee, other senators declining the general invitation owing to the lack of funds.

The party will reach Birmingham
March 27, according to present schedules and will go to Gorgas, Ala., the same afternoon. The next two days will be spent in an inspection of Wilson Dam. The party expects to return to the capital Friday morning.

house military affairs gained another step today in its efforts to receive congressional authorization to inspect the Muscle Shoals power project at Muscle Shoals, Ala., which the government is trying to dispose of.

The resolution authorizing the inspection at a cost of $2,000 was approved by the accounts committee and sent to the house. It is expected to be passed either late today or tomorrow.

T. M. DIX WINS SPELLING MATCH

The Kiwanis spelling match last night was won by T. M. Dix when the well known insurance man was the last to keep his feet in a test conducted by the club from the old blue back speller. The words were pronounced by Superintendent W. W.
Benson, of the Decatur schools. Paul Morrison was runner up.

Superintendent Benson today issued the following announcement:

As a teacher, I wish to commend the example of the Kiwanis in reviewing the "spelling match." This exercise, although regarded by some people as old-fashioned, will never cease to have educational value. It stimulates interest in correct spelling and sends people, young and old to their dictionaries when they are in doubt about a word. Moreover, social and club groups can get as much fun from a contest of this kind as from a popular game. It is a pity that spelling matches do not become "the social rage." If they were, it is quite possible that eighty per cent of the population would master the short two thousand words that constitute the bulk of correspondence, and other written and spoken discourse among English speaking people.

The Kiwanis have some fine spellers—even in the "blue back," which has many unused and difficult words.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS

"EXPERT" TESTIMONY USUALLY IS PARTI- SAL TESTIMONY FOR THE SIDE HIRING IT.

And now comes a "consulting chemist and former technical adviser to the government on nitrate fixation" and tells the House Military Committee holding hearings on the Muscle Shoals matter that Nitrate Plant No. 2 is in reality a pile of obsolete junk, although some sixty-nine million dollars were spent very recently by the government in building that plant. This "expert," as he is hailed, declares the plant is worthless as a fertilizer producer, the cyanamid process is obsolete, and the plant cannot even be reconstructed to make it function on more improved processes.

It is a sad, sad story, according to this individual. According to him, Uncle Sam has been lunched.

Coming out of the limbo of obscurity to bring this message to a waiting world, this "consulting chemist and former technical adviser to the government on nitrate fixation" naturally arouses some questions in the mind of the average reader. In the first place, who is his employer? Where does he dispose of his services? Who are his clients? In the second place, if he is such a great authority and was employed as "consulting chemist and technical adviser to the government on nitrate fixation," how does it happen he allowed the government to throw sixty-nine million dollars into a plant which he now declares worthless? Does it not raise the suspicion that he either was ignorant, or designedly allowed this crime? And if either is the case, does he have good standing as a witness now?

Who summoned him? In whose pay is he in the exercise of his profession? Where has he been all this time? When did he get off the government payroll, and has he ever been heard to chirp about these deficiencies in the nitrate plant while it was under construction?

And finally—and most significantly—if the Nitrate Plant No. 2 is such a huge "gold brick," why are the fertilizer interests and the cyanamid interests and various allied interests fighting tooth and toenail to keep Henry Ford from getting possession of it? If Henry Ford is willing to lose millions operating it, and it is as worthless as this "expert" declare, even Henry will soon get sick of the proposition and provide an object lesson which will certainly deter others from attempting such folly. Therefore, why not let Henry go ahead and lose some of his millions and learn a lesson? Would it not be the very best way to get rid of potential competition?

The testimony of the "expert chemist and technical adviser to the government on nitrate fixation" raises a very strong suspicion that he either laid down on the job when in his official position, or else did not know his business, to permit the construction of what he now denounces in unmeasured terms. "Expert testimony of the sort is not above suspicion."

Old Tom Edison says he can make fertilizer at Nitrate Plant No. 2, and Edison has probably forgotten more than this individual will ever know about electricity and its uses; and Edison will be Ford's adviser in this part of the Muscle Shoals development. The News has a good deal more confidence in Thomas A. Edison than in folks who talk as this witness has been doing.—Birmingham News.

TWIN CITIES HAVE GREAT ASSET IN ALBANY-DECATUR DAILY.

In this gloriously prosperous section of North Alabama we have many institutions of which to be proud. The press of the Tennessee Valley has done its part nobly in the cause of general development. Pointing to this influence it is with distinction that we single out the Albany-Decatur Daily as being one of the fine assets to the community it serves. Indeed the people of the Twin-Cities have a right to be proud of its good newspaper, a constructive force in the upbuilding of that splendid link in the continuous chain of cities that are some day to weld together and make the wonderful metropolis 75 miles long that has been dreamed about and is now being planned. Recently the Albany-Decatur Daily celebrated another of its anniversaries. Our wish is, that it may live throughout the ages, growing and prospering through public service with each fleeting year.—Huntsville Daily Times.

PARIS ON MODERN DANCING.

It was hardly to be expected that the severest criticism of present-day dancing would come from Paris. Yet that is the case. The Revue Mondiale, which has never been exactly prudish, is campaigning against it, and printing a symposium giving the views of prominent Paris men and women of all classes and professions. Some of the opinions expressed, it is said, are so drastic that they could neither be printed in America nor cabled. Those submitted for American perusal are quite strong enough.

Paul Bourget says his next novel will deal with a girl ruined by her craze for these dances. Another author compares the drink evil with the dance evil, and doubts which does society more harm. Abel Hermant calls the modern dancing "low and ugly." Victor Marguerite calls it "a precious and dangerous defilement." Regina Badet, who does not scruple to dance nude on the stage, professes herself thoroughly shocked by the sensual bearing of dancers generally. Another Parisian calls it "a hypocritical form of obtaining illicit pleasure."

This comment, be it observed, is applied to the kind of social dancing that prevails in "respectful society" in this country. Americans, it will be remembered, when the "maxixe," or "Machiche" arrived by way of Paris, were indignant at this invasion "from the disreputable French underworld." Now Paris returns the compliment regarding certain innovations of our own.

The French, it is explained, have been more shocked by these dances than the Anglo-Saxon peoples, because "French women have always tended to be divided into the very, very bad, and the highly home-loving and respectable," and they do not like to see the latter type adopting the pleasures of the former. With the big majority of Americans, the dances in question have no such association. Just the same, if we may trust a growing weight of criticism of which this is merely the latest and most emphatic, they must be pretty bad.—Tuscaloosa News.

The greatest monument which can be erected is the monument to useful service. Service that is helpful. Service that helps solve the problems for others. Service that initiates ways and means for the accomplishment of good. Service that is not given grudgingly. Service that overlooks some of the defects and strives to help. Service that is at all times on the alert for usefulness. Not half hearted service, but the whole hearted kind, that ennobles and elevates to the higher endeavors of life. This is the kind that lives with and after the one thus exemplifying it, and counts many points in all the transactions of life.

While the congress sleeps, the Ford offer suffers and the people pay the price.

What one legislative body does in writing on the statute books a law of the land, another one can undo; therein lies the secret. It is a great come-back.

Henry Ford the magician. He is entitled to the name, because he waved the magic wand over a "worthless junk pile" and it immediately became a thing coveted by many with millions at their command wanting to develop it.

We are coming into our own. We have the greatest section in all the world, and when the development of it is properly undertaken and gets under way, provided we can get the things that are ours by virtue of their location in our midst, we can arise from the attempted prostitution of the riches that abound in this section, and will yet live to see the day dawn when this section will come into its own.

Perhaps the reason the English have not fired Lloyd George, the old old question has arisen "who will we put in his place that would suit us any better?"

If there were some way to get these shrewd politicians off into a snipe hunt and have them hold the bag, instead of their everlasting seeking to hold the balance of power at elections, it would help some.

A strange thing is that there are so many egotistical people even after they are plainly told time and again that their dome is solid, empty, and full of wheels all in the same breath.

The regulation of railroad rates in the state is one of the biggest questions of the hour. When it is impossible to ship farm produce to profit because of the existing high freight rates prevailing, there should be something done to remedy it. It is uncalled for, and should be corrected at once.

HOW BEASTLY

When they first met he said, "A bear." For every hop he'd have her there; He'd dog her footsteps far and near, He called her "bird," she called him "dear."

A little horseplay hitched the two— Now he's the goat! It's nothing queer.

The only man who never has spoken a cross word to his wife was born dumb, and even he often makes an impressive gesture.

Here is a household hint from a New York paper:

"To rid the pantry shelves of red ants, wipe them with denatured alcohol every few weeks."

But how are we going to make them hold still while we given them an alcohol rub?

A Quick Return

It was a pitiful mistake, an error, sad and grim. I waited for the railway train, the light was low and dim. It came at last, and from a car there stepped a dainty dame, and, looking up and down the place, she straight unto me came.

"Oh, Jack!" she cried. "Oh, dear old Jack!" and kissed me as she spoke, then looked again and frightened, "chided," "Oh, what a bad mistake!"

"Forgive me, fair madam," I said, "for I am not your Jack, and as regards the kiss you gave, I'll straightway give it back."

And since that night I've often stood upon that platform dim, but only once in a man's whole life do such things come to him.

One of the office force told us of a couple who had been married for 12 years and were still holding hands. Then added: "The man was afraid to let go for fear he would get hurt."

Sad

I've reached the hole of "What's the use."

Of self pity I've a plenty. My cellar hasn't any juice, And my demijohn is empty.

The only things in the universe that will last forever are the human soul and the national debt.

In Flanders Fields

Host—Half a minute! I'll give you a light to the gate; it's very dark.

Cheerful Guest—Don't bother. I can see in the dark. Why, when I was in Flanders—

Host—Yes, yes; but you're not in Flanders now—you're in my carnation bed.

Tough Luck

His horse went dead and his mule went lame. He lost his cows in a poker game. Then a cyclone blew his house and barn away. An earthquake came when they were gone and swallowed the ground the house was on. The tax collector then came and charged him for the hole in the ground.

NOT A TWINGE OF RHEUMATISM LEFT, SHE SAYS

"I Felt The Good Results Of Tanlac From The Very First Dose," Declares Esteemed Tampa Resident.

"I think Tanlac is the grandest medicine on earth," was the enthusiastic statement of Mrs. Lula Poulnot, 3215 Fourth Ave., Tampa, Fla.

"Tanalac is as different from any other medicine I have ever tried as day is different from night. I felt good results from the very first dose. In a short time it gave me an appetite and toned up my stomach and the rheumatism from which I had suffered a long time began to leave me."

"I have just finished my third bottle and there isn't a twinge of rheumatism left and I have more life and energy than I have had in years. Having received such benefits from Tanlac I feel it is only my duty to tell others who suffer like I did so that they may get relief, too."

Tanalac is sold in Decatur by Decatur Drug Co., and by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Do Blackheads Mar Your Beauty and Do You Try to Remove Them?

By LUCREZIA BORI

The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

LUCREZIA BORI they are equally unwelcome. Sometimes we see a woman who appears to have a lovely complexion. She may be on the street or at the shop counter. Our attention may first be drawn to her because she is smartly dressed, or it may be the lovely texture of her skin which causes us to look closer. Then, alas, we have a shock of horror. For we see that the skin we thought so lovely is, in truth, spotted with blackheads. There is no excuse for this, as even the most stubborn blackheads may be removed by proper, constant care.

If you are troubled with these unpleasant little blemishes you probably know that they are a collection of fatty material in the glands of your skin, which are exposed to dust and become black. Ordinary washing or rubbing over the surface of your skin doesn't make them move at all, and you may have tried cold cream without success.

If this is the case, never under any circumstances attempt to remove blackheads by the amateur method commonly known as "pinching" them out. This squeezing with your fingers, or a cloth on either side of the offending blackhead may remove it, but if the blackhead is deep-rooted there is danger of an abscess forming below the surface of the skin.

Blackheads are often found in an oily skin, and are often seen on brunettes than on blondes.

If you are troubled with them, do not attempt to remove by pinching, but get the following lotion from your druggist and follow directions:

Lotion for Blackheads.

No. 1. Green soap..... 14 ounces
Alcohol..... 14 ounces
Glycerine..... 24 drams
Nolox..... 24 drams

No. 2. Rosewater..... 24 drams
Spirits of lavender..... 24 drams
Alcohol..... 24 ounces

Wash your skin with No. 1 every morning, then rub in No. 2. Then wash your face again, this time with warm water.

Try to protect your skin as much as possible. It is a very good plan to rub in a good vaseline cream before you dust your face lightly with powder. The cream prevents dust, as well as the powder, from entering your pores.

When you wash your face, do not neglect your chin, but rub it as carefully as you do the pores about the end of your nose. The soft pad of skin over the chin bone often forms a ready place for the gathering of blackheads.

The delightful whiteness of your skin will more than repay you for the time you may expend.

"What's in a Name?"

By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name, its history, meaning, whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

LOIS

LOIS is really a masculine name. It means "famous war" and comes from the Teutonic nomenclature through the Karling romances.

Lois or Loiz, as it is sometimes spelled, is really Loius.

The French king whom the French knew as Louis de Debonnaire, was originally called Lindulcus. The Provencal promptly softened the name to Alois, but so popular did Louis become that no member of the French royal family was christened without it. Finally the soft Alois gained favor throughout France and the "n" was dropped, producing the musical Loys.

The Bretons were already using the name of Loïs, so the "y" in Loys disappeared and Loïs appeared and remained permanent.

Loys was the only form of the innumerable versions of Loïs that became applied as a feminine name. Spain's Loïs has never wavered from its masculine interpretation, nor has the Luiz of Portugal.

France formed an Heloise from Loïs and Louise might possibly be called an equivalent for Loïs if it were not for that strain of Provencal.

Loïs has been given in baptism generally as a name of sentiment. It is a trade difficult to pronounce but is undoubtedly beautiful and extraordinarily popular in this country.

The talismanic gem assigned to Loïs is the onyx. It should be worn with care as it is inclined to cool affection, provoke discord and separate lovers, but worn by Loïs it prevents these very misfortunes. Monday is her lucky day and 4 her lucky number.

"WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH ME?"

Thousands Who Ask That Question Will Be Interested In This Answer

Human flesh is heir to many ailments, but aside from the acute and the contagious diseases, most people become sickly from neglect. They have indigestion and do nothing for it. They get nervous and often sleep poorly and do nothing to cure themselves. From these and other causes they gradually lose strength and vitality and feel tired much of the time and often "blue" and despondent.

If you feel below par take Gude's Pepto-Mangan and let it restore your strength and vitality and overcome that weakness by building up your blood to the right richness and redness. Then you will feel fine and vigorous again, and have plenty of "pep." For thirty years Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been the doctor's favorite tonic for run-down people. Sold in both liquid and tablet form by all druggists.—Advertisement.

Why? 1st—It covers from 350 to 400 square feet per gallon, two coats, as compared to 250 to 300 square feet with ordinary paint.

2nd—It will wear twice as long as "cheap" paint—thus keeping the cost of applying the paint to a minimum by making painting less frequent.

3rd—It looks better over a longer period of time than ordinary paint.

Song Recital

PRINCESS THEATERFRIDAY, MARCH 17th

NEW YORK PAPERS SAY:

"Margaret Clarkson, soprano, gave a matinee in Aeolian Hall yesterday. She showed signs of individual quality, modestly but expressively, in her simpler songs by Mmes. Beach, Van Rennes, Riego, Messers, Forsyth, Osgood, and Hageman, the last named, her accompanist in Cook's 'Ol' Carolina' the low voice and racy humor were to the manner born."—New York Times.

"Miss Clarkson has a mezzo voice of good quality, right resonance, and its use gives her very little trouble. Moreover she is very earnest in her singing and tries to make her songs convey the meaning of their texts."—Irvine Neil. —Evening Journal.

"An afternoon debut on the Aeolian stage by Margaret Clarkson, soprano, shows the unmistakable virtue of a clear enunciation."—The Mail.

"Margaret Clarkson, a young soprano with an excellent voice gave a recital yesterday afternoon in Aeolian Hall."—Evening Telegram.

COVVER PARTY.

Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Austin gave a delightful covver party at their home on Walnut street Thursday evening to the members of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church.

"St. Patrick" was brought to mind in the games, music and refreshments. Green strings, one for each guest, were wound in and out of the stairway, pictures, chairs and tables and at the end of these in a peanut hull was a slip of paper telling what part the owner was to take in the program. Some sang Irish songs, others told Irish jokes and stories. After this and other games had been enjoyed for several hours, delicious refreshments were served to about 25 who were present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thomas left Thursday morning for a visit to Nashville.

Mrs. Mahlon Long, of Pulaski, Tenn., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Will Wyker.

Why Druggists Recommend Swamp-Root

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send 10 cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

VIOLENCE MARKS DAY

(International News Service.)

LIMERICK, Ireland, March 17.—Violence in which one man was killed and three others wounded marked the St. Patrick's celebration here today. Republicans fired upon a brass band which was marching through the streets, heading a parade. One member of the band was instantly killed. It is feared that violence will break out as feeling has been running high since the rebellious Limerick and Tipperary brigades of the Irish republican army assembled here and threatened to make war to set up an Irish republic.

Acts With Speed—Loosens the Phlegm—Stops the Irritation and Coughing—Ceases

When you can make, in two minutes, a world beating remedy that acts directly on the membrane and often overnight causes stubborn coughs and even hard chest colds to disappear, why trifle with things that will probably disappoint?

Having and snuffing and also coreness of the lungs, membranes go and you will feel fine in almost no time. Just get one ounce of Parafin (double strength) add to it a little snow and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.

Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for catarrh and acute nasal colds.—Advertisement.

Women and Medicine

In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegard wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In these days the men were too busy bothering about dogmas of religion and medicine, and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice.

It was the women, however, who mostly conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick, and thus they learned much of great value. They let the men fight out the questions of theories.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, did then, and does now, relieve the ailments peculiar to women. It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it.—Advertisement.

NEWS OF MOULTON AND LAWRENCE COUNTY

MOULTON, March 16—(Special)—The Lawrence county executive committee met in Moulton Monday and transacted much routine business. There is a prospect of still other candidates being added to the long list already out. At present there are announced for probate judge: J. E. Kumpke, the incumbent; W. R. Jackson, who is now circuit clerk; C. M. Sibley, member of the board of revenue. For circuit clerk the candidates announced are: T. F. Almon, for 14 years member of the county board of education; Andrew Wade, W. F. Howell, Jerry Holland and Fred Smith, all of Moulton or nearby, and Charles Bragg, of Town Creek, but formerly of Moulton. It is rumored that others have qualified and may soon enroll in this class of excellent men. So far only one announcement has been made for representative, J. D. L. Byars, a successful farmer of our Moulton. For sheriff the candidates are: J. R. Bates, J. O. Perry, S. D. McCulloch, T. G. Greene, W. B. Lee, and Jack Carruth.

March has so far succeeded in rearing all farm work throughout Lawrence county. Rains and high water have flooded all lowlands, and, although a great deal of ground was turned in the winter, so far but little work has been done.

The schools of West Lawrence county are to take part in Field Day exercises at Town Creek, Saturday. The occasion promises to be as good as those of the past two years at that prosperous valley town. The citizens of the town have extended an invitation to all county candidates to attend and take part in a series of three minute talks. Owing to the inclement weather of last week, the exercises at Moulton were postponed to March 25.

Miss Addie Moles, of Caddo school, spent last week-end at home in Moulton. Her sister, Miss Buford Moles, returned with her for a visit of one or two days.

Many candidates were in Moulton last Saturday, among them Jack Carruth, of Wolf Springs, and Charles Bragg, of Town Creek. Mr. Bragg spent the early part of this week with his parents in Moulton.

Principal Prentiss Simms, of Town Creek school, visited his mother in Moulton Saturday night and Sunday.

Dee Wasson, prosperous farmer of East Lawrence county, was in Moulton Saturday. He brought with him several of the Danville teachers.

Wert Bayne, principal of the school at Moulton Heights, Albany, and two of his pupils, Messrs. Wear and Alexander, were in Moulton Saturday.

The Moulton public school association has purchased cement for a much needed walk on the school grounds.

James Martin, successful business man of Lendersville, was in Moulton Monday on his way home from Decatur.

A number of traveling men were able to get to Moulton early in the week to see their customers.

A number of people are ill with influenza in Berea community, between Moulton and Lendersville.

Uniform sixth and seventh grade examination will be given in the short term country schools Friday of this week and the first of next.

Quite heavy wind accompanied the rain Tuesday night in Moulton, damaging slightly the roof of A. F. Farley's store.

CANDIDATES KEEP SECRETARY BUSY

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 17—J. M. Moore, supervisor of the state division of food, feed and drugs, and Judge John B. Ward, of Abbeville, today qualified as candidates for state commissioner of agriculture by filing the declarations with Hugh White, assistant secretary of the state Democratic executive committee and submitting checks in payment of entrance fees.

Both have been candidates for several weeks and have already started active campaigns.

Percy M. Pitts, of Clanton, well known young attorney, will enter the Republican primary as a candidate for state senator for the fifteenth senatorial district, composed of the counties of Chilton, Shelby and Autauga. Mr. Pitts' formal announcement was received by William P. Cobb, secretary of state, today.

The fifteenth district is the only one in Alabama which furnished a Republican senator in 1918, Senator Harper defeating the Democratic nominee.

Other candidates who filed declarations with the secretary of state during the day follow: Julius C. Cato, Jr., Eufaula, representative Barbour county; A. B. Cook, Lisman, representative Choctaw county; F. C. Marquis, Dora, delegate to state convention from Walker county; J. B. Moxey, Laverne, representative Crenshaw county.

Lamar Jeffers, who is completing the unexpired term of Congressman Fred L. Blackmon of the fourth district, paid his entrance fee as a candidate for a full term.

George W. Ellis, chief clerk of the state treasury, paid his fee as a candidate for state treasurer as the successor of R. L. Bradley.

PEACEFUL THINGS AND WHY, SUBJECT

"The Things Most Needful and Why" was the subject of the sermon last night by Rev. S. W. Joiner at the Church of God, South Albany. He laid the scene of his discourse in the home of Lazarus, Mary and Martha. The speaker said that what reproof Christ gave to Martha was not a harsh one and that harsh rebukes seldom accomplish much.

"There are many necessary things in life," said the preacher, "such as food, clothing, homes, exercise and money. The proper desire for these things and their right use is not sinful. But to be cumbered and worried about such matters often lead to sin. Christ was teaching Martha that spiritual considerations were the supreme ones. Most people make character and spiritual life the last thing they seek after; but these are the things most needed in this life and in the one to come. All classes and nationalities of mankind will worship; but the worship of Christ is the only worship that brings best results. The soul of man was made for God. True religion implies knowledge, love, faith and holiness. Christ gives light for the understanding, truth for the judgment and peace of conscience for the soul. As sin has taken all these things from mankind, so Christ alone can restore them."

Much interest continues in the meetings as led by Rev. Joiner, and they are expected to continue into next week.

Suit On Contracts For Books Settled

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 17—Announcement was made by Attorney General Harwell G. Davis today that settlement had been made of the suit brought by the state against the Silver-Burdette publishing company for alleged breach of contract by failure to deliver certain school books used in the public schools.

The company paid into the state treasury $3,000 and the suit was dismissed. It was found there had not been a complete breach of contract as the company continued to furnish some of the books but was unable to deliver a portion of the period following the war to comply with all terms of the contract.

HOME DAMAGED

The Albany fire department responded to an alarm of fire today at 3:30 o'clock. The fire was at the home of A. T. Shropshire, Fifth avenue south. Sparks on the roof was the cause. About $50 damage was done to the roof. The fire was quickly extinguished by using chemicals.

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adelle Garrison's New Phase of

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1922, by Newspaper Features Service, Inc.

The Way Mudge Stole a March on Dicky.

I had struck Dicky a vicious blow in the face I don't believe I could have more effectively banished the dancing laughter from his face and eyes than I did by my icy rejoinder to his banter concerning my projected journey to bring Katie back.

The better part of my nature urged me to cry out an apology for my hasty words, but the memory of the unjust criticism of my Dicky had uttered at the time of his mother's accident chilled any generous impulse toward him, and made me instead wickedly rejoice in the anger I saw leap to his face.

"If I had such a case of improving ego as affects you," he snarled, "I'll be blasted if I wouldn't go and dump into the bay to get rid of it. I don't believe there's anything in the world could happen awful enough to make you forget your own feelings. You're always running around with a tape-measure and a measuring room trying to see whether you get your just meed of praise and consideration. Mother gets a fall that might have put her out of business for all time, and because in my excitement I let drop a word or two that isn't substantiated, you immediately depart for the polar regions, and throw up an ice barrage. I should think you'd—"

Dicky is Angry.

"Pardon me," I interrupted, with a fragility that justified the statement he had just made, "but I have a good deal to do before I can start after Katie, so I wish you would give me some idea of how long you mean this lecture to last. I am, of course, desirous of listening as long as I can, but—"

"Oh, so to the devil!" Dicky snarled and flung himself out of the room angrily, while with the perversity which only a woman knows, I first laughed with malicious glee at the success of my bullying, then felt my eyes fill with tears of regret at my mean little folly.

That I had succeeded in thoroughly angering him I realized as the evening wore away—or rather rained away—while I made my preparations for the earliest possible start the next day. Dicky devoted himself to his mother, although there was little to do but watch her, for exhausted by her ordeal she slept, though fitfully, through the entire night. But he spoke no word to me beyond the barest necessities of speech, nor did I try to placate him. There was no use, I felt, in making any effort to do so, for when Dicky is angered it usually takes him hours to get over it, and to tell the truth, I was so busy and so worried that I had neither the time nor the inclination to attempt to change his attitude. All my thoughts were centered upon my coming excursion with its chances of success so overwhelmingly against me.

"Stop the Car!"

One by one the items on the list of things that must be adjusted before leaving were crossed off. Mrs. Ticer, hurriedly summoned, announced her perfect willingness to transfer to Jerry, the redoubtable Sam and herself to our menage until I returned. Marion was in the seventh heaven of delight at being entrusted with the care of Junior, and I knew that never young woman would have so devoted a slave, knew, also, that Lillian's loving supervision would be always over the child. That Mother Graham was safe in the care of those same capable hands, while Dicky's more or less erratic attempts to help would also be made of use by Lillian I also knew. So, at last, the final detail completed and with small bag packed for my journey, I lay down to a few hours' sleep before time to go to the train.

I intended to drive my own car to the train, taking Jerry Ticer with me to drive it back. But when I rose from the substantial breakfast which Mrs. Ticer had prepared, and went out on the veranda, I found Dicky's car, with Dicky himself at the wheel, standing by the steps. He was frowning, and the tonneau door was open, indicating that he did not intend me to ride on the seat with him, so that I knew he was still angry. But my heart leaped at the knowledge that Dicky would not permit me to go to the station without him.

With conjugal clairvoyance I also knew that he was as anxious to make up, but that his pride had compromised with his tenderness in the leaving of the tonneau door open. With the eyes of the flicers and Lillian upon me, however, for they were all upon the veranda to bid me good-by—I could do nothing but bid my bag into the tonneau, and prepare to get in myself.

"Hurry!" Dicky commanded curtly. "You've just time to make the train."

I obeyed him, and the machine had leaped forward before I had closed the door. I knew that he had mistaken the time, and I guessed that he had done so intentionally that he might have an excuse for not alighting and helping me into the car, his invariable courteous custom. But I held no rancor for this, and I determined that even if I missed that first train I would not let our quarrel stand a second longer than necessary. So as soon as we were well out of sight of the house I uttered a little exclamation of dismay.

"Stop the car, Dicky!" I exclaimed, "I dropped my glove!"

He obeyed, but did not turn around. So I clambered out of the tonneau, then for a quick movement swung open the front door, climbed in beside him, reached past him, and turned off the ignition switch, smiling with meaning, but saucy tenderness at him as I did so.

To Remove Lead in a Gunbarrel.
Chemically pure and strong nitric acid will dissolve the lead and not attack the metal of a gunbarrel unless the acid becomes diluted with a little water. To remove the acid, pour all of it out and wipe the gun dry with a rag soaked in olive or cotton seed oil. Do not get the acid on the hands or clothing. If, by chance, this happens, wash it off immediately with water and then with some weak alkali.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, March 15.—Fresh surprises and new discoveries will be found at the annual exhibition held next month by the Society of Independent Artists. Among the "discoveries" are three children, Texie Myers, "the little girl Michelangelo of Texas," Teddy Harris, a practically unconstructed boy of 11 years, and Nuvar Beberian, an Armenian girl who is doing startling things in textile designs. Water color impressions of New York from the air, put down by painter flyers as they soared 3,000 feet above the city, will be another feature of the exhibit.

It is rather the accepted thing to put the apartment house janitor into the class of the utterly annoying. What janitor ever lived who wasn't arrogant, idle and using his power to withhold the tenants' rightful prerogatives? That's what we get into the way of thinking. Then along comes someone like "John." That is his only name he has so far as the dwellers in an Allen street tenement knew, and he has been janitor here for several years. A fire started in the kitchen of one of the tenements the other day and drove out the 16 families living there before it could be put out. All were able to escape except Mrs. Aaron Dumpsy, who was too ill to move from her bed. Her husband tried to get her out but the task was too much for his strength. Then a man clad in blue overalls and blue cotton shirt broke through the crowd, evaded the police and dashed into the hallways, from which clouds of smoke and flames were bursting. It was just John. As soon as he had saved both lives and could do nothing more to help anyone, he returned to his pipe and quiet.

To work down in the busiest, most congested section of Manhattan Island and yet picnic everyday sounds difficult, but it is perfectly practicable and a regular spring and summer proceeding with hundreds of girls and a few men from these Wall street district offices. You see, one can ride over to Staten Island and back in the big ferry boats in a shade under an hour, and the pier is close at hand to a few sandwiches to eat on board and only the regular lunch hour is taken out, while the salty air of New York harbor has had a fine chance at giving one a brace. These noon hour rips are already beginning, even now in March.

"Madeline and the Movies," the new George M. Cohen play which has just opened at the Gaiety theatre, is the sort of farcical melodrama or melodramatic farce that George M. excels in as no other playwright on earth can do. It is filled with quick turns and twists of plots, with comic emphasis on sinister crooks and constant feeling on the part of the audience that it is going to be kidded if it doesn't watch out. The fact that Cohen himself is putting on his own play is guaranty against any poor acting. His own daughter, Georgette, captures some honors, and Ruth Donnelly is excellent, as is Harry Mestayer—and most of the others.

The famous, much-heralded tapestries which formerly belonged to Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, have arrived in New York. Frank S. Mason, Fifth avenue art dealer, landed with them and they are now being put on exhibition. They are of ancient Gobelins creation and are said to be worth half a million dollars.

INDIGESTION

Busy Public Official Says Theford's Black-Draught Helps Him Keep Physically Fit.

Clay City, Ky.—"I have been in business here for twenty-one years and am also coroner, riding the Kentucky hills and hollows in all kinds of weather and under all kinds of conditions," says Mr. Sam T. Theford, of this place. "To be able to do so, I must keep physically fit, and Theford's Black-Draught is my stand-by. These trips used to give me head aches, and that, I found, came from hurried meals or from constipation. I was convinced that Black-Draught was good, so now I use it, and it gives perfect satisfaction. It acts on the liver, relieves indigestion, and certainly is splendid. I am never without it. When you have a feeling of discomfort after meals, causing a bloating sensation, headache, bad breath, and similar common symptoms, try taking a pinch of Black-Draught after meals—a pinch of the dry powder, washed down with a swallow of water. This has been found to assist the stomach and liver to carry on their normal work, and helps prevent, or relieve constipation.

Your druggist can supply you with this well-known, purely-vegetable liver medicine. Insist upon Theford's, the original and only genuine Black-Draught liver medicine. NO-137a

What came near being a cloud burst occurred here Tuesday evening between four and five o'clock. The earliest rain for many months fell in the space of about 30 minutes. All gutters were filled to overflowing and the streets were flooded to some extent. The branch which runs diagonally through town was overflowed in many places, and it was feared it would overflow some of the business houses, a thing which has happened on several occasions.

A window and door manufactory has been installed by A. P. Howell at his place. Mr. Howell operates several saw mills and planers in different parts of the county, having at each large dry kilns. He is enabled to get the finest kinds of soft pine, and it is from these he gets the material to make the doors and windows of. The manufactory is started on a small scale, and he hopes to feel his way gradually to larger manufacture of them. At present he is occupying quarters recently built near his mill in the south portion of town, where experienced men are turning out the product. There is no trouble experienced at all in disposing of his product, which compares favorably with other goods of similar manufacture.

Work on the East pike which was to have begun this week has been postponed on account of bad weather. The work of getting the roller to the scene of operations has been a laborious one, as the earth is so soft along the route to the work the roller is in we wait some of the time. With pretty weather prevailing work will Refinishing Nickel Plating.

A new nickel-plating solution said to yield beautiful results is prepared by mixing the liquid obtained by evaporating a solution of one-half ounce nickel in aqua regia to a pasty mass and dissolving it in one pound of aqua ammonia, with that obtained by treating the same quantity of nickel with a solution of two ounces cyanide of potassium in one pound of water. More cyanide renders the deposit whiter and more ammonia renders it grayer.
